CLEVELAND'S ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY.

New Edition.

C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth street, Philadelphia, have recently published a new, storeotype edition of English Literature of the Nineteenth Century, signed for preservation as a document for reference, or for general circulation, as a Free Democratio Missionary, especially among those not yet familiar with the Anti-Slavery movement. It will be composed chiefly of articles from the National Era, adapted particularly to the purpose named.

Each number will contain eight pages, and be printed on good paper, of the size of the Congressional Globe, in quarto form, suitable for binding.

It will be furnished at the following rates, by the year, twelve numbers constituting a volume:

Six copies to one address - - $1

Twenty copies to one address - - $1

Any person or club may in this way, by raising $12, supply Anti-Slavery reading every month, for a whole year, to one hundred readers. Single subscribers will not be received. Send for a club, and order it to one address. The postage is a trifle—only half a cent a number, six cents a year, paid in advance at the office where the paper is received. A Halpayments must be in advance.

OUR ILLUSTRATED JOURNALS.

FOWLERS & WELLS publish the following Periodicals. They have an aggregate circulation of about One Hundred Thousand Copies.

These Popular and Professional Serials afford an excellent opportunity for bringing before the Public with Pictorial Illustrations all subjects of interest, Physiological, Educational, Agricultural, Mochanical, and Commercial.

the United States. The following opinions relative to "Egglish Literature of the Nineteenth Century," are solected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century," an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious cordensation of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the stimute they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly. It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text cook for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a fuller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.' *

"It is, I believe, the richest collection of gems in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and deli late task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upon each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a stro g testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.'

For sale by the publishers, at Philadelphia; by C. M. Saxton. New York; Phillips, Sampson, & Co., Boston; Cushings & Bailey, Baltimore; John B. Steel, New Orleans; H. W. Derby, Cincinnati, Jewett & Co., Cleveland; and by booksellers generally.

NEW BOOK BY REV. JACOB ABBOTT.

NEW BOOK BY REV. JACOB ABBOTT. "ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

BEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.

By Jacob Abbott.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true."

The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature,

IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without question the best Magazine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—
the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their most gifted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines.
Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in monthly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,800 pages, richly embellished with 12 splendid portraits of distinguished persons of historical subjects The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROBIBITIONIST.

"If any State deems the retail and internal traffic a ardent spirits injurious to its citizens, and calcuted to produce idleness, vice, or debauchery, I see othing in the Constitution of the United States to revent it from regulating or restraining the traffic, r from prohibiting it altogether, if it thinks proper."

Chief Justice Tuney.

O'N or before the 1st of January, 1854, the Executive Committee of the New York State Temperance Society will issue the first number of a Monthly Temperance Journal, under the title of "The Pao Histitonists."

Its Size—It will be printed on a double medium sheet, making eight quarto pages, of four columns to a page; and, excluding advertisements, each number will contain an amount of reading matter equal at least to that furnished by our larger-sized daily journals, or to that of an ordinary duodecime volume of 150 pages.

Its Object.—To advocate the Cause of Temperance generally, and especially the Legislative Prohibition of the Traffic in Intoxicating Beverages, to prepare the minds of the masses for such Prohibition, by showing its expediency and Necessity, and to secure, by all the influence it may legitimately exert, the vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Field.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to overy community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the National. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibitionist is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a Great Report and the Novement.

Its Necessity.—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Prohibitionist is designed for circulation (instead of tracts) among the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

the money.

The paper will be under the general direction of the Executive Committee, who have received ample assurances of literary aid from not a few of the ablest and most eminent writers in the temperance ranks throughout the Union.

The work will be stereotyped, and back numbers can be supplied to new subscribers at any time during the year.

can be supplied to new subscribers at any time during the year.

All orders should be addressed to O. Scovill, Publishing Agent, Albany.

Communications for the paper, or in relation to the interests of the cause generally, should be directed to Wm. H. Burleigh, Corresponding Secretary.

In behalf of the New York State Temperance Society: EDWARD C. DELAVAN, President.

Executive Committee.—Henry Mandeville, Reuben H. Walworth, John O. Cole, I. N. Wyckoff, William Richardson, Edgar B. Day, Hermon Camp, B. P. Staats, Oliver Scovill.

The Committee request all editors in the United States to give the above one insertion in their columns. To all who comply with this request, we will send the Prohibitionist for one year, without an exchange, unless they choose to add to our obligation by sending their papers also, which would, of course, be most thankfully received.

THE NEW YORK MUSICAL REVIEW CHORAL ADVOCATE

IS the cheapest and best Musical Paper in the world. This Journal, which has heretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consist increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapest as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.— One dollar per annum, or six copies for five dollars, always in advance.

Terms. Une dollar per anum, or six copies for five dollars, always in advance.

The music alone in a volume would cost over five dollars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dollar! Evory one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chie value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, main tains its ancient celebrity, and is at this time unugually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britait and in the United States. Such works as "The Cax ons" and "My New Novel," both by Bulwer; "My Peninsular Modal," "The Green Hand," and other sorials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Black wood, after it has been issued by Messrt. THE WEAL AND WOE OF SOCIAL LIFE. One Volume 12mo, $1.

THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scones are described with much spirit and graphic effect. * *

* We are disposed to regard the book as the best of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Written with marked ability .- Zanesville Courier

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a freshness and originality about it, that is very pleasing. * * * One of its chief merits is the excellence of its conversations.—Enquirer.

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meek patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.— New Albany Tribune.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and Albany Trioune.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and at times very eloquent. We would commend it especially to young ladies, that they may see to what dangers they are exposed, in forming alliances with the fashionable in high life.—Ohio Organ. A deeply interesting and powerful work. It vividly portrays some of the terrific exploits of strong drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a beneficent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lessons.—Presections.

* * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of fascination, as well as in its grim and dismal aspect of open degradation. Rarely has a woman ventured to hold the torch to such a dark recess of human woe.—Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.—Journal and Messenger.

Beautifully written. * * * A work of great strength and power.—Gospel Heald.

* * The incidents dramatic, and the inter est intense to the end .- Ohio Statesman.

Wields an easy pen, and sketches men and man-ners to the life.—Presbyterian Herald. Graphic, truthful, chaste, and deeply affecting, the story winds itself into our feelings, and we become absorbed in the plot, as if we beheld before our own eyes the realities of the author's delineations.—Dai-

PROSPECTUS FOR 1854. THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

UNRIVALLED ARRAY OF TALENT. UNRIVALLED ARRAY OF TALENT.

THE Proprietors of the POST, in again coming before the public, would return thanks for the generus patronage which has placed them far in advance of every other literary weekly in America; and as the only suitable return for such free and hearty support, their arrangements for 1854 have been made with a degree of liverality probably unequalled in the history of American newspaper literature. They have engaged, as contributors for the ensuing year, the following brilliant array of talent and genius:

Mrs. Southworth, Emerson Bennett, Mrs. Denison. Grace Greenwood, and Fanny Fern.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT!

ELEVENTH VOLUME OF THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST,

THE LEADING

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarto pages, making an annual volume of 832 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agriculturist.

It is beautifully printed with type cast expressly for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wide margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,
Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener and the Stock Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Pablication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c., thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legiti-

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to eatch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately pertaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbugs and nostrums affoat in the community will be tried by reliable scientific rales, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep tais paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal. An Independent Journal.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness zeal, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor it the organ of any clique, or the pulling machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agricultural class.

Editorial Decartment

Editorial Department. The American Agriculturist is under the editorial supervision of Mr. A. B. Allen, its principal editor for the past ten years, and Mr. Orange Judd, A. M., a thoroughly practical farmer and agricultural obscited. chemist.

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been for a long time one of the most successful farmers of New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amberst College; Rev. Wm. Clift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Piew as well as the Pen.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crop-, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

Specimen Copies.

Specimen copies will be forwarded, gratis, to any one sending their name and post office address to the publishers.

"Your analysis of the slave laws is very able, and your exhibition of their practical application by the Southern courts evinces great and careful research. Your book is as impregnable against the charge of exaggeration as Euclid's Geometry, since, like that, it consists of propositions and demonstrations. The book is not only true, but it is unousstionably true."
